PANEL: Maintaining rangatiratanga in the current environment

As kotahitanga across Māoridom builds momentum, we as researchers and practitioners are poised to consider our role in supporting the movement. This session will spotlight those that have stood at the frontlines of movements prior, who have mastered an unwavering determination to maintain, preserve, and enhance rangatiratanga in the face of an ever-changing political landscape.

SESSIONS: Envisioning how to take ourselves forward "Maranga mai!"

- Deep dive into excellent & high impact rangahau.

Maintaining Rangatiratanga

- Māori Leadership experiences and impacts in the NSC's.

AHIAHI

PANEL: Ka hao te rangatahi!

Tupuna-driven, mokopuna-focused. Raukura of Kohanga Reo and Kura Kaupapa will share their thoughts and ideas about the future. This session will cover a range of issues and explore what rangatahi solutions look like. We will chart a way forward through the eyes of our rangatahi and tamariki for the future they wish to see.

SESSIONS: Ki tua

PANEL: Advancing in the face of adversity

Returning to the taiao of our environment, our language and our Māori worldview is where we will seek solutions to continuing our advancement. Join this session for key insights by reo and taiao experts to discuss future-focused solutions.

SESSIONS:

Super charging decision makers to make better decisions.

- Leaders in the Māori data and information space will talk about how harnessing our information can empower iwi, hapū and whānau development.

Activism through rangahau

- For decades, we have been in a process of decolonisation. How do we as researchers change it up when it comes to decolonising research spaces, methodologies and dissemination? This session will challenge what we know and seek new ways of enacting rangahau activism.

AHIAHI

Unplugging from the Matrix - new models for resourcing our rangahau aspirations:

- The government has created competitive research funding environments. This approach encourages division and ultimately compromises fulfilling Māori aspirations. How do we unplug from this Matrix and look within ourselves to create a new reality.

How to be a professional hōhā

- The expression of 'hōhā' is unique to Māori, and with that comes a unique set of characteristics and tools that can be applied to a professional setting enabling you to achieve your desired outcome while maintaining a level of dignity and finesse.

PANEL: Rauika Māngai Chairs

A reflection on the 10-year journey of the NSC's and their aspirations for the future RSI system.
